For the regulation/control of the fast forward temperature warmth in keeping with requirement (to only the Vitocom 200, type EIB). These filament heater circuits must be regulated with a Vitotronic 050 (type HK1M) at heating systems with Vitodens, Vitopend and Vitoplus and filament heater circuits with mixer. With this modulus the individual room temperature controllers can be assigned to the filament heater circuits. Through this the heating main station energy optimized is regulated. Into dependence of the outside temperature and the room data (different value desired/current temperature...).
