Cable tie 3.6x281 UV sw TY 526 MXR Tape width 3.71mm, tape length 284.4mm, tape thickness 1.31mm, max. bundle diameter 76mm, min. holding force 130N, operating temperature -40... 85°C, version with internal teeth, tape closure Steel nose, material plastic, material quality polyamide (PA), surface untreated, color black, labeling area without, type of fastening without, The black, UV-resistant Ty-Rap steel nose cable tie made of polyamide 6.6 is available in several lengths and widths and different tensile strengths. This series is especially suitable for outdoor installations. The cable tie is packaged in recyclable plastic bags with Euro holes and contains 2% carbon for military specifications. The corrosion-resistant, anti-magnetic, Type 316 stainless steel nose in the cable tie head guarantees the strongest and most secure hold on the market. The powerful and reliable Ty-Rap can be used in the most adverse conditions such as vibration, heat or cold. The rounded edges and contours of the head and the tie ensure user-friendly handling and prevent the insulation of the cables and wires from being damaged by sharp edges or serrations. In addition, the smooth body with no grid teeth or grooves reduces the number of overstressed areas. The slight nubs on the inside of the strap ensure that the tie sits firmly on the cable bundle. A large selection of accessories complements the range.
